

IBM® Rational family products provide a complete lifecycle set of integrated solutions. Together they empower your team to:

- Communicate clearly and effectively
- Share and re-use assets repeatedly
- Improve team collaboration
- Optimize individual and team productivity

The Rational Suite® family blends market-leading developer solutions with an integrated set of lifecycle tools, called the Team Unifying Platform. The Team Unifying Platform facilitates team communication with tools for requirement management, defect and change management, version control, project measurement, testing, and development process guidance. With Rational Suite products you get best practices, tools and services in one comprehensive solution.

Below is a list of proposed solutions that are well-suited for education purposes.
